The success of Miss Annie M. Beard of McKeesport, Pennsylvania, in the treatment of diarrhoea in her children will undoubtedly be of interest to many mothers. She says: "I spent several weeks in Johnstown, Pa., after the great flood, on account of my husband being employed there. We had several children with us, two of whom took the diarrhoea very badly. I got some of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy from Rev. Mr. Chapman. It cured both of them. I know of several other cases where it was equally successful. I think it cannot be excelled and cheerfully recommend it." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by all dealers.

The Populist, a new weekly publication of Santa Rosa, made its first appearance last week. It is neatly printed and ably advocates the principles of the party it represents.

Chris. Gow of Anadale was brought to Santa Rosa last Saturday in an unconscious condition suffering from the bite of a large scorpion. Dr. Boyce treated the man and at last accounts he was out of danger.

The Union Hotel dining rooms since the recent change of proprietorship, have undergone a change for the better. Under the supervision of Mrs. S. E. Jones the tables are all that could be desired by the most fastidious epicure.

Dove shooting is at present the popular sport among nimrods. The birds are very wild this season, but can easily be bagged by a good wing shot using a large oak tree as a blind and shooting them as they fly in. Some fine bags have been secured that way during the past week.

If you want to prosper own your own house and stop paying rent. We offer a modern built two-story seven-room residence on one of the principal streets of Sonoma. Lot 50x150. Will be sold for $1,200 on the following terms: Five hundred dollars down and balance in three years at 7 per cent. The house cost $1,800. For further particulars apply at this office.

Gustav A. F. Cornelius died in this place last Saturday morning after an illness of several months. The deceased was a brother of Geo. H. H. Cornelius, with whom he had been making his home the past five or six months. He was a native of Germany and aged 51 years, 9 months and 8 days. The funeral took place Monday afternoon under the auspices of the Sonoma Odd Fellows, the deceased being a member of that order.

An editor works 365 days per year to get out fifty-two issues of a paper; that's labor. Once in a while somebody pays a year's subscription; that's capital. And once in a while some one of a gun of a dead beat takes the paper a year or two and vanishes without paying for it; that's anarchy. But later on justice will overtake the last named creature, for there is a place where he will get his just deserts; that's hell.—Ex.

Emilio Musazio, a blockmaker employed in Pinelli's quarries, who had one of his fingers badly crushed by a falling rock on the 6th inst. which incapacitated him from work for a short time, received a check last Wednesday from the Fidelity Mutual Aid Association of San Francisco in payment of accident benefit. The payment was made through its well-known agent Mr. Alonzo de Clairmont, and came in quite handy to the injured man.

News has been received from the party of hunters that left Sonoma Valley the latter part of last week in quest of large game in the northern part of the county. The party struck camp on the Robt. Hood ranch, twenty miles west of Cloverdale, on Saturday and the following day two deer were killed.

The party is composed of Jas. A. Shaw, J. S. Pieratt, F. J. Kerridge, Carl Dreesel, J. J. O'Farrell, Geo. Livingstone, John F. Kinsley, Dr. Aull, W. Dougan and Mr. Ernest. All the gentlemen are fine rifle shots and experienced hunters. They will return home in another week.

Social hop at the Park Pavilion, Glen Ellen, this evening.

A Warning to the Unsophisticated.

The "green goods" men are still plying their nefarious business and in their efforts to catch suckers have addressed letters to several people in this place. A number were received by last Tuesday's mail. The swindlers have now transferred their field of operations from New York to Easton, Pennsylvania. They claim to be able to furnish gold notes printed from plates stolen from the United States Government. The scheme, which is the rankest kind of a swindle, has been exposed from time to time by the entire press of the country. The rascals have no money, either genuine or counterfeit, to dispose of. They simply entice their victim into their dead-fall in some eastern city and pretend to deliver over a package of bills, but which by a clever trick of legerdemain is changed for a bundle of worthless blank paper. A few years ago one of the gentry was shot and killed in New York by a man from Texas whom he was endeavoring to swindle. The Texan, who was acquitted, ought never to have been put to the expense of a trial. The "green goods" men ought to be shot on sight on general principles.

The Proposed New Jail.

The City Trustees held a special meeting last Monday for the purpose of examining plans and specifications for a City Jail. Trustees Seipp, Poppe and Bulotti were present. Plans were submitted by Messrs. Wm. Trudgen, Ceresa Ferdinando, Antonio Minoletti, De Bernardi & Gianni, and J. B. Small. The plans and specifications of Wm. Trudgen, after some discussion, were adopted by the Board and Clerk Breitenbach was instructed to advertise for bids for building the same. The plans as adopted call for a building of stone and iron. There will be a special meeting of the Trustees next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of receiving the bids and awarding the contract.

Important to Brandy Makers.

United States Bonded Warehouse Keeper Sparks has received instructions from Washington that the new Tariff bill on brandy will shortly go into effect. The new law will make the tax on brandy $1.10 instead of 90 cents, the present rate. Those brandy distillers in Sonoma county who propose to avail themselves of the present low rate will have to get their spirits regauged and the money must be in the hands of the collector before the new law goes into effect. Even if the money should be in transit when the new law becomes operative, it cannot be accepted unless as part payment.

The Petaluma Fair.

The Fair at Petaluma, which opens next Monday and closes the following Saturday, promises to be one of the best ever held by the Sonoma and Marin Agricultural Association. The races will be held every day and in addition to the other attractions offered ought to bring out every man, woman and child in Sonoma Valley during Fair week.

Notes from the Senator Jones Ranch.

Hay-baling still continues. About fifty men are employed on the place at the present time.

Two thousand five hundred sheep were turned loose on the upper ranch one day last week.

Cat fish are plentiful in Sonoma creek and a large number have been caught with set hooks and lines in the vicinity of the old club house.

Summer fallowing has commenced and before the winter rains set in between three and four thousand acres will be seeded to wheat and barley.

Seventeen car loads of grain have already been shipped from McGills station to San Francisco over the Donahue railway and a large quantity of grain in sacks is still piled up in the fields.

A number of men on the place were recently robbed of a quantity of clothing by a fellow workman, who skipped out, but subsequently became frightened and returned the purloined articles. Nobody arrested.

The Turners' Entertainment.

The following will take part in the entertainment to be given by the Sonoma Turn Verein at Union Hall next Wednesday evening: Hon. F. T. Duhring, Miss Claire Hope, Miss Natalia Haraszthy, Miss Madge Sullivan, Miss Pauline Bates, Miss Nellie Stevenot, John B. Skinner, Prof. Broadstreet, Jas. B. Small. After the literary programme there will be dancing. Robt. Pasch will act as floor manager. The committee having the affair in hand are A. F. Pauli, Geo. Spanning, Robt. Pasch, Carl Haderman and Jas. B. Small.

SANTA ROSA CONVENTION.

The Democrats Nominate a Ticket and Select Delegates to the State Convention.

The Democrats met in convention at Santa Rosa last Wednesday and nominated the following ticket: State Senator—J. W. Oates, Santa Rosa.

Assemblyman Sixteenth District—W. H. Ungewitter, Guerneville. Assemblyman Seventeenth District—J. T. Campbell of Santa Rosa.

Sheriff—Logan Toombs, Healdsburg.

Clerk—W. F. Wines, Santa Rosa.

Treasurer—Lee Ellsworth, Petaluma.

Assessor—Wm. Longmore, Santa Rosa.

Superintendent of Schools—A. C. Abshire, Sonoma.

Recorder—W. H. Pool, Santa Rosa.

District Attorney—Emmet Seawell, Santa Rosa.

Surveyor—Prof. Symonds, Sebastopol.

Coroner—Dr. Cockrill, Bloomfield.

The following were elected delegates to the State Convention which meets in San Francisco on the 21st inst:

J. S. Saunders, J. O'Grady, J. H. Shackhoff, Frank Dowd, Robert Howe, C. H. Holmes, B. T. Davis, W. H. Porterfield, J. Juhl, W. H. Lowery, Wm. Barnes, W. F. Cowan, R. A. Thompson, B. F. S. Wood, A. Markham, A. Cereghino, I. M. Proctor, C. H. Connell.

NOTES.

Robt. Howe of this place nominated Prof. Abshire for School Superintendent. He was elected on the third ballot, the vote standing as follows: A. C. Abshire, 61; Miss Mary Redmond, 40; T. B. Ward, 8; Mrs. Mary Williams, 6; W. A. Finley, 1.

Capt. Stofen was not a candidate before the convention for a renomination for Treasurer, although he went into the fight it is certain he would have been nominated on the first ballot.

The ticket is an exceptionally good one and it behooves the Republicans to be careful in selecting men for the various offices at the Healdsburg convention next Monday. If they do this the contest will not be a walk-over for either party.

POLITICAL POINTS.

M. D. Hopkins of Petaluma, who is aspiring for a place on the Republican ticket, was in town last Monday.

At the Republican primary election held in this place Thursday the following were chosen delegates to the Healdsburg Convention: Judge Breitenbach, G. S. Harris and Judge J. M. Cheney.

Robt. A. Poppe received quite a number of complimentary votes for delegate at the Republican primary in this precinct. He was not a candidate much to the disappointment of many of his Republican friends.

The Republicans of Sonoma county have established headquarters in Company's E. armory at Santa Rosa, where the Secretary of the County Central Committee, Mr. W. H. Dobyns, will be pleased to receive all visiting Republicans, and Democrats for that matter who desire to be converted. The new apartments are carpeted and furnished with chairs, tables, etc. Mr. Republicans from all parts of the county are invited to drop in when at the County Seat and are assured of a cordial welcome.

A New Enterprise.

L. Beilstein has opened a coopershop on Spain street next door to the Toscano Hotel. He is a first-class workman and parties desiring anything in his line, such as punch-coons, tanks, etc., or repairing done should give him the preference, where all things are equal, or similar establishments in other towns, as by doing so they will encourage and revive a home industry that has been allowed in the past to languish and die for want of patronage.

Mr. Thomas Bette, editor of the Graphic, Texarkana, Arkansas, has found what he believes to be the best remedy in existence for the flux. His experience is worth remembering. He says: "Last summer I had a very severe attack of flux. I tried almost every known remedy, none giving relief. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy was recommended to me. I purchased a bottle and received almost immediate relief. I continued to use the medicine and was entirely cured. I take pleasure in recommending this remedy to any person suffering with such a disease, as in my opinion it is the best medicine in existence." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by all dealers.

Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer is, unquestionably, the best preservative of the hair. It is also curative of dandruff, tetter and all scalp affections.

Last Tuesday evening was a perfect summer's night. The silvery moon shed a soft and brilliant light over all Sonoma Valley as it never seemed to shed before. So it appeared to the gay party of young people who enjoyed the delights of a straw ride on that evening.

Shortly after luna commenced to shed her refulgent rays over the valley a large wagon drawn by four prancing horses left town with fourteen young ladies and gentlemen. After enjoying a delightful ride of several miles up the valley it was proposed to visit Maxwell's Grove, the camping ground of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Lane. The proposition met with the approval of all and they were soon on their way to the camp. Upon their arrival they were warmly welcomed by the hospitable host and hostess, who in anticipation of their coming had lighted the grove and pavilion with bright Japanese lanterns and prepared hot coffee which was very acceptable with the dainty lunch brought by the young folks. After partaking of these good things dancing commenced in the pavilion and continued for some time when the jolly party departed and returned to their homes soon after midnight. The following composed the party: Misses Bertha Campbell, Agnes Duhring, Pauline Bates, Bessie Knight, Miss Williams, Miss Wilkinson, Mrs. Lane, Mrs. Knight, Messrs. Electricity is employed largely for pulling teeth. To the battery are attached three wires. Two of them have handles at the end, while the third is attached to the forceps. The patient grasps the handles, the electricity is turned on suddenly and the dentist simply and painlessly applies his forceps to the tooth. The instant the tooth is touched it, as well as the surrounding parts, become insensible to pain. A jerk, and it is out.

Green plums put on the market as pickled olives is the latest swindle that has come to light. But, as might be expected, this is not a California subterfuge. Our olives are not to be surpassed and growers in this State take pride in putting on the market a fine article. But in New York large quantities of green plums are pickled as olives. One man in Leicester has sold 15,000 to 20,000 bushels to olive picklers. French or Italian olives are turned out to order.

you. When she found that you were here, always had been here, she threw you away and took that Manchester cad. I am very sorry it has all turned out wrong, but indeed it would not have turned out differently even if I hadn't tried to play Providence for you.

"Well," he said, "it's all over. I must bear it somehow, I suppose. Thank you a thousand times for all you have done and have tried to do for me."

She had risen from the stone and was standing beside him as he looked forlornly out over the misty gray expanse of the valley.

"I think I will go home alone," she said. "I am tired of talking, and I am ashamed of the whole thing. Forget it and don't let us ever speak of it again, will you? I hope you won't be very unhappy."

He stood holding her hand a minute longer than she would have let it rest in his.

"But we are still friends, aren't we? That wasn't acting?"

"No, that wasn't acting. Only, don't you see, we have nothing much left to be friends about now. Good-by."

He stood, sick at heart, seeking vainly for some word that should keep her by him a little longer. It came to him in a swift rush—all that she had been to him in these last two months, and now, as she said, there was nothing to be friends about, and yet could they not be friends, with no ghost between them, no phantom of his love for Lola?

She had not taken the usual path. It seemed she was in haste to part from him, for she had chosen the steep and difficult way up the sheer quarry side, a dangerous way, as he felt suddenly. No, he could not let her go, not go that way. The quarry side rose sharply above her. He made a step forward and found the words:

"Edith!" he cried, "come back, come down!"

She started and turned her head. Her eyes were half closed. They were dim with tears which she could not stay.

"Take care," he cried and ran toward her through the fern bushes. Then suddenly—her feet slipped, and he saw her falling, falling. She fell with a sickening thud on the wet clay. He bounded over the rocks and bushes and reached her side. She lay quite still, with one arm doubled under her. Her head had fallen off, and her head lay on a cushion of thick mud, so that at first he thought she was not hurt much, not so very much. But then he saw that her face was perfectly colorless and that from one corner of her mouth a drop of bright red blood was slowly trickling down her cheek and her white neck.

"Then he cried aloud and flung himself on the ground beside her. He got her in his arms, and at the touch of her, Lola's disappointment, everything in the world faded, and he and she were left, and she was dead. He would never hear her speak again, never see her eyes turned his way or see her face light up at his approach. He felt that she was dead, and then he knew suddenly, surely, that the light of his life had gone out with hers.

"Edith, my love, my love, my heart, come back! It is I, I love you. But there came no answer. If he had known his heart but five minutes before, she would still have been his to try for. Now there was nothing, nothing left. He kissed her cold face all over. He felt with a strong, sudden rush of hope if her heart yet beat. He could not tell. He thought not.

"Oh, my love, come back!" He knelt beside her. Her head drooped back over his arm as he clasped her to him and called through the growing darkness of despair, "Come back, my love, come back."

One brown, bare hand, feebly raised, touched his face for an instant and fell again.

"Edith, Edith, speak to me," he murmured hoarsely, sick with the mingling of hope and despair.

Her lips moved. He laid his ear to them and caught the low, faint whisper:

"Goodby, my love, my dear. Nothing else matters now. I never loved anybody but you."

The snow was thick on the ground, and the brave snow above touched it to a million diamond points of light as the bride came out of church leaning on her husband's arm. Her soft, white, fur trimmed gown swept over the crimson carpet laid from church porch to lychgate. When the carriage door had shut on the two and the coachman had whipped up the white favored horses, the bridegroom's arms went round the bride.

"Mine!" he said. "Mine own, have you nothing to say to me?" And the bride laid her pale face but for the snow on the ground the carriage wheels would not have let him hear: "Nothing else matters now. I never loved anybody but you."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
